THE MODERATE DRINKER.

BY R. C.

Of all the barriers at the present day
The friends of temperance meet with in their way;
The cause opposing with a power accreted,
The moderate drinker is perhaps the worst.
And as a floating wreck from shore free
Endangers every bark that rounds the coast,
Thus in proportion to his contact base
The moderate sinner contaminates the race.
He gazes openly three drams a day
And hides in private drams a quart away.
And boasts that rum has no'er his brain o'er-thrown.

For the good reason he possesses none;
But in its stead a barren, cranial waste
That genius' radiant presence never graced.
O! moderate gazer, never boast again.
The power, to drink at will or to abstain.
The poor immunity of which you boast
Is held at fearful intellectual cost;
For fever thought or aspiration high
Nor gave a glimmer in your mental sky.
And though you may not in the gutter sprawl
Or in the swine's vile dormitory fall,
And though your class may point you out
With pride,
As one who has the power of drink defied
To cease or throw him, yet you have the smell,
And that alone your infamy will tell.
Foul as Dutch Stink pots which with scents
of death,
Blow on Malayon buccaners their breath,
Who from the infernal smell themselves to save,
Drove horrified and died beneath the wave!
Behold the moderate drunkard—there he comes
He's rum's possession, soul and body rums.
His skin is puffed with drink as by he goes,
Rum blows his cheeks and blossoms on his nose,
Each drink he takes but for another call,
And long and deep he quaffs but never fails;
Till with a paunch no child can hold
He jogs beneath a quart of fust oil—
A victim of that deity of sin—
The trine god of brandy, rum and gin.

DEFERRED MATTER.

The following editorials, locals and news items were prepared for last week's issue, but were laid over for want of room:

"Rage on ye Winds."

We are glad that Jim Blaine made the record he did in the past year, for of all years in history the last has the fullest list of evils to answer for. With yellow fever, small pox, hard times and the devil, comes this crazy disappointed politician, mad over the success of the Democracy and threatening the negroes with disfranchisement, taking from them their citizenship and fastening on them the shackles of slavery. That which the Republicans declared the Democracy would do they now propose to accomplish themselves. Because the colored man discovered the cloven foot of Republicanism, that they were made the dupes of the cunning and dishonesty of the leaders of that party and sought refuge in the Democratic ranks as their only safety, they are now denounced, and all the furies are called into requisition to punish them for the exercise of the ballot and asserting the freedom of citizenship. We say to the colored men, you have a fast friend in the Democratic party; you have found in one of the great leaders of the Southern Democracy, Gov. Wade Hampton, the best friend you ever had. He will continue to stand by your rights when your pretended friends desert and persecute your race. Remember that it has ever been the mission of the Democracy to protect and defend the oppressed. Rave on, Jim Blaine, the chickens are coming home to roost.

The Birth Day.

The year of 1878 has gone, and with it millions of human beings sleep the sleep of death. Ten thousand bright hopes and expectations are buried in the grave; old Time has covered herself with the fitting shroud, and laid another of her years with all of its great burdens away in the sepulcher of repose; but, at the same time, left us the assurance that the Babe of the Virgin, born on Christmas day, in the village of Bethlehem, of Judea, was God manifested, who led captivity captive, opened the grave and pointed to the reality of immortality as the resume of life unending in the brighter and happier sphere.

Christmas has come, gone, and will come again, and millions of living humanity will rejoice and celebrate that great event above all days, for upon it the dial of heaven rested to usher in the peaceful Redeemer of a lost and ruined world. We celebrate the memory of heroes who lead armies to death and perish themselves, but the Christian hero voluntarily died that he might conquer death, publish a resurrection in his own person and assure life to all that die. The world's heroes pale into insignificance and their memory fail with years; but the world shall be full of the praise of the Savior, for his name, his nature and his deeds are immortal. The humility of his birth, the simplicity and holiness of his life, the grandeur of his death and glory of his resurrection, prove his divinity and impose on mankind the unreserved devotion of the heart.

An Excursion to Mexico.

The President of Mexico does not want war with the United States, but, on the contrary, he wants amicable and closer commercial relations with this country, and has invited the Mayors of some of our principal cities to appoint some of their leading commercial citizens to visit Mexico and try to open up more friendly commercial relations. A number of gentlemen from Chicago and St. Louis will sail from New Orleans on the 5th inst. for Vera Cruz, and there join a similar party from New York, Boston and Philadelphia, who sailed on the 30th ult. from New York. The party will then become the guests of the Mexican officials, and will proceed to the coffee plantations near Cordova, thence to Orizaba, thence to Esperanza and the city of Mexico, where there is arranged a series of entertainments and excursions, visiting San Carlos, Tacubaya Cuautlan, Toluca and other towns. Leaving Vera Cruz about the middle of Feb., and then sailing northward and visiting Tampico and other Mexican cities on the Gulf, and landing at Galveston, Texas, the last of Feb. and thence returning to their homes by rail. Wm. H. McHenry, Esq. is one of the St. Louis party, and left that city for New Orleans last Saturday.

That Assignee Business Again.

Since writing the two editorials referring to Mr. Shortell as assignee, &c., we found from a further examination of the law that Sec. 5062 U. S. Statutes was amended in 1874, and makes it the duty of the assignee to publish notice of sales in such paper or papers as are designated by the court. We also find upon an examination of the records, that Mr. Shortell was elected assignee of the estate in question on the 16th of October, qualified on the 13th, and on the 14th the Register (J. Z. Moore) ordered advertisements, notices, &c., to be published in the Kentucky Republican, at Madisonville, Ky., hence Mr. Shortell is not to blame for, in fact, he was bound to do just what he did do, or pay the expense out of his own private means. The blame and wrong we referred to thus shifts from Mr. Shortell, leaving him entirely exonerated, and settles down on the Register in Bankruptcy. In another editorial we will have a few words to say about this.

Old Coin.

Some of our exchanges have been boasting of old coin in possession of themselves or readers. We propose to overthrow them all. Mr. Geo. Will Bennett, of No Creek, left with us, a few days ago, the following coin: An English coin, in value one-tenth of a pound, date of 1853; two French coins, of denomination of one-half franc each, dated 1827-45; a Mexican coin, value of ten cents, dated 1864; three Spanish coins, value unknown, dated 1721-35; one French coin, value unknown, date 1856; an old-fashioned German "schilling," dated 1819; three French one fourth francs, so old that the dates are worn off; two United States three-cent pieces, dated 1851; one Mexican coin, partly copper, value date unknown; six United States copper cents, dated 1834-53-57-62 and 1864. Mr. Bennett also left with us a few fair matches, which, after being lighted, can not be put out until burned up. Mr. Bennett collected the most of this coin while in Texas. He also left us a specimen of mineral wash the appearance of a small fan, with bright shining specks in it like gold. Come and see these curiosities before Mr. Bennett carries them home.

Death of Hon. Caleb Cushing.

This distinguished man died at his home in Newburyport, Mass., on the 2nd inst. He was born in Massachusetts, January 17th, 1800. He was admitted to the bar at the age of 25. He was one of the most learned men in America. He was a writer of considerable note. He negotiated our first treaty with China, served in the Mexican war, was a justice of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, and was Attorney General under Pierce's administration. In 1860 he was the presiding officer of the Charleston Convention, and was one of the seceders from it who nominated Breckenridge for President. He was Minister to Spain under Grant's administration. He had probably no equal, and but few peers as a lawyer, though as a politician he was rather vascillating, having been Whig, Democrat and Republican.

Democratic Matine.

On last Friday the Maine Legislature elected Alonzo Garcelon Governor of the State. Garcelon is a sound Democrat. The Constitution of that State requires the candidate for State office to receive a majority of all the votes cast before he can receive the certificate of election. If no one receives a majority, then it devolves upon the Legislature to select from the candidates. In the last election, the Nationals, Republicans and Democrats each had a ticket in the field, and there was no choice by the people. When the Legislature convened, the Democrats and Greenbackers very sensibly consolidated their strength which gave them a majority, and by caucus, selected a ticket for State officers, and elected their ticket as follows: Governor, Alonzo Garcelon; Secretary of State, Edward H. Gove;

State Treasurer, Charles A. White; Attorney General, Wm. A. McClellan; Adjutant General, Samuel D. Leavitt.

Resigned.

The cause of temperance has not received such a boost in this State for a long time, as it did last week in the resignation of Geo. W. Bain, G. W. C. T. of the Independent Order of Good Templars and editor of the Good Templars' Advocate. Ill health caused his resignation, and will cause him to cease active work with both pen and tongue. He, beyond question, is one of the most eloquent temperance orators that ever battled for the noble cause of humanity. He is the Gough of Kentucky, and where ever he went sent conviction to the hearts of all his hearers. He is succeeded by an able, fearless speaker and writer in the person of T. B. Denmore, who has been actively engaged in the good work for a long time.

Ten Thousand Voters Disfranchised.

In the Simon-pure Republican State of Rhode Island, one must have so much property to be allowed a vote, and by reason of this 10,000 of her poor men are disfranchised; and yet the Republicans of that State along with Blaine are howling about the poor negro of the South not having a full free ballot. Oh, what consistency. The negroes in the South have no restraint while men under the Blaine rule in Rhode Island are disfranchised because of the crime of being poor.

Still They Marry.

On the second inst., at the residence of Mr. Franklin Wallace, Mr. Isaac Shown and Miss Ella Wallace were united in marriage by the Rev. A. O. Ebright. Despite the exceedingly cold weather a goodly number of friends were present, and at the risk of being frost-bitten attended the bride and groom to the reception given at Mr. Edward Shown's.

New Publication.

We are in receipt of Vol. 1, No. 1, of the Louisville Monthly Magazine, published by Wm. F. Brewer, and edited by Prof. P. A. Towne. It is a sixty-page royal octavo size, two columns to a page, and is well filled with scientific, historical, educational, statistical and literary articles. Subscription $2.00 per annum in advance. It has a special educational department, that will make it quite interesting to teachers.

Cavalry Sent to Breathitt County.

Upon the requisition of Judge Randall, Governor McGreehey has sent a company of cavalry to Breathitt County to be used in hunting down outlaws who are availing arrest.

The Moffit bell punch liquor law, brought a revenue of $11,000 more into the State Treasury of old Virginia in the first year than the old license system. If Kentucky wants a big school fund let her adopt the Moffit plan and she will get it sure.

The Sheriff of Metcalf County, Ky.

was some few weeks ago, while discharging his official duty, seriously wounded by a lot of "moonshine" distillers, from which he died one day last week.

The municipal election in Frankfort last Saturday, was the most hotly contested election ever held in the city. The straight Democratic ticket with but one exception, was elected. S. I. M. Major ran ahead of E. H. Taylor, Jr., 43 votes.

COMMENCING with the new year, our friends and former citizens Wallace Nall & Bro., of Lincoln, Ill., began the publication of a daily paper in connection with their weekly.

FRANK TURPIN, operator at Beaver Dam, was dog bit lately. Apply a little of the hair Frank, and roll a hog-head of tobacco over the dog—[Elizabethtown News.]

Oh, no, let Frank Turpin (time) that dog somewhere near the but-end of his (the dog's) narrative, and he'll not want to fool with Turpin (time) anymore.

GEN. ELI H. MURRY, is talked of as the Republican candidate for Governor. The Republicans in our opinion could not make a better nomination.

HART COUNTY held her Convention Monday, January 6th, and instructed for Gen. James A. Dawson, for Lieutenant Governor, and left delegates uninstructed for the other offices.

The public debt, according to Secretary Sherman's statement increased during December, 1878, $1,233,785.

COL. J. P. NUCKLES, of Barren County, has withdrawn from the race for Auditor of the State.

TOM GOHEEN, Jr., of Marshall, has withdrawn from the race for Auditor.

EDUCATIONAL.

W. L. HAWKINS, - - EDITOR.

JANUARY 15, 1879.

M. E. B. LYON COUNTY, Ky.—1. "Can I force them (the trustees) to report a five months school in order to get my money?" M. E. B. it seems began a five months' school and taught eighty days; he then agrees to with the trustees, if they pay him for the time he taught, that he will quit, and asks the above question. As a five months' school of twenty-two days each, we cannot see for the life of us, how, if the trustees have a due regard for their oath, they can be forced to make such a report. As M. E. B. taught half the term, he is certainly entitled to report so much of his school, and to draw the pay for it. The trustees certainly rendered themselves liable to penalty if they refuse. If they have the term finished by another teacher, he will be entitled to pay for the full time taught; provided that it was not a voluntary abandonment, on his part; then he is not entitled to anything. See Com. Rep. 1878, page 207. Remarks 18 and 19. In regard to his second question, M. E. B. is informed that his remedy is with the County Commissioner.

Mr. J. W. Ford, druggist, Main street, Hartford Ky., presented us with a nice frame for our State certificate, and we feel that to take off our hat and to make him a real graceful bow, with forelock in hand, were nothing more than a handsome thing—but alas, we have no forelock, and therefore depute Mr. Lycourus Barrett our proxy, as he can, of all the attaches of the Herald, approach more nearly our dignity and grace.

Some one sent us a copy of the South Carrollton Student, for which he will please accept our thanks. It, the Student, presents quite a neat typographical appearance, and is edited with considerable ability by W. A. and J. M. Peay, and, as its title implies, is devoted to the interests of education. It's a monthly and costs fifty cents a year. We wish it an abundant success. We will value it as one of our exchanges.

Do you wish your child to grow up respected and loved by all? Then do not teach him that his instructor at school is a tyrant, and that every act of insubordination is an evidence of spirit, that he is better than other children and that his correction at school will be resented; but on the contrary, teach him that obedience is one of the cardinal virtues, and that you expect the teacher to enforce it.

Our former remarks on the subject of high-priced school books seem to have elicited some discussion. We are lauded by some; and by others, it seems, we are blamed as having overstepped the bounds of our province. Well, well, gentlemen, as you please about that. Our object is to do good, and we care but little as to the estimate placed upon us, so we have cheaper and better bound books.

Let it be understood that if teachers refuse to take and read educational periodicals, it is no fault of ours. We have time and again urged them on the subject, and given them our candid opinion of such as have fallen under our observation. The poorest of them all is well worth the subscription price.

W. C. Morton, "Buck," as he is familiarly called by his friends, gave us the glass that covers our State certificate; for which he has our profound thanks. We have known Buck for a long time, and can truthfully recommend him as one of the best fellows in the world. He is accommodating, honorable and fair in all his dealings. Give him a trial.

Thanks to Mr. Eugene Schwab, of the firm of J. A. Goldshaw, at Buck Horn, for the present of a superb pipe. Mr. Schwab is a nice, affable and accommodating gentleman, fond of showing goods, and selling cheap bargains.

Young teachers read this. Our Commissioner has the right to appoint a student to a session of ten weeks in the Kentucky Normal School at Carlisle, who will receive the best of training free of cost. Who will avail himself of the privilege?

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Supt. of Public Instructions.

DR. H. A. M. HENDERSON, of Bourbon county, is a candidate for re-election to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Hon. Z. F. SMITH, of Henry county, is a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

To Whom It May Concern.

Commencing with the year 1879, my brother, Lycurgus B. Barrett, is interested with me in the publication of the HERALD, and is authorized to receive subscriptions, take contracts for advertising, job work, and transact any other business pertaining to the office. He will also be a gatherer of local news. JOHN P. BARRETT.

Brighter Days Ahead.

What is to be the result of resumption can hardly be determined yet, but one thing seems pretty well settled: that the crisis has been met with greater ease than was expected and has so far been very satisfactory to the Secretary of the Treasury, the President and his cabinet. We suppose money will be plentiful, for silver is circulating plentifully and is as common as shin plasters and bank notes of a small denomination some years ago. We certainly can have no objection to this state of affairs, for it promises good results. With money in abundance, labor must necessarily increase in price, that which people have to sell will bring higher prices, and now if the agricultural world shall be blessed with plentiful crops, enabling them to exchange their products for money, times will most assuredly grow easy and a happy state of plenty and prosperity ensue. This night of depression and gloom is passing off, and we trustfully hope for better times.

Continental Money.

We have a $45 Continental note printed in 1879. It was left with us by T. J. Smith, Ex-Sheriff. It is signed by John Lawrence and So. Spogold, and bears No. 49679, and is payable to bearer in Spanish Miller dollars or in gold or silver; according to Resolution of Congress, 14th of January, 1879, which was 100 years ago yesterday. Mr. Smith has kindly consented to leave it with us for awhile so as to give our friends a chance to see it. Come and see it. It is a sad comment on this Government, to think of the repudiation of this money, which was paid out to men in return for the hardest service ever endured by mortals.

The Plain Truth in a Few Words.

"Redemption has not been brought about by legislation, for most of the legislation we have had has hindered rather than helped the end in view, but by the strong repressive power of the nation itself. As long as we were spending more than we earned the payment of our debts was impossible; but since we have been learning industry and thrift we have begun to accumulate wealth, until we hold a vantage ground against the world. So long as we continue to earn more than we spend we need have no fear of financial reverses."—[Philadelphia Times.

Simpson County Convention.

The Democrats of Simpson county met in convention at Franklin on the 11th inst., and instructed as follows: For Governor, Dr. L. P. Blackburn; Lieut. Governor, Capt. Cantrell, of Scott county; Auditor, Col. D. Howland Smith; Attorney General, P. H. Harding; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Colonel Edgar; Register of the Land Office, Sheldon first choice, Marcum (present incumbent) second choice.

A PAPER, published away off yonder, may be a large paper, a cheap paper, and all that sort of thing, but it does not publish your local home news and in no particular sense does it care for you or your county and its interests. It is not directly interested in the good name and credit of your county—its development, resources, fine lands, good roads, neat school houses, churches, &c. In no sense does it recommend your county away from home. The proper thing is to support your home paper first, and then others if you can afford it.—[Ex.

Washington Letter.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

Congress has now seven weeks in which to dispose of the entire business before it. There is some question whether that will be time enough, and whether an extra session will not, after all, be necessary. Undoubtedly the House could transact all the legitimate routine business, and have some time to devote to the various important matters that do not come under that head; but there is going to be trouble with the Republican Senate which may cause serious delay. Of the six appropriation bills passed by the House before the recess, three have been acted upon in the Senate, and numerous extravagant amendments attached to them increasing their aggregate amounts more than fifty per cent. And these are only the minor bills over which there is seldom much disagreement. The remaining seven include the two most important—the legislative, executive and judiciary, and the sundry civil bills. In these are embraced some items which the House will decide to cut out, and which in all conscience and decency should be cut out. Mr. Deven's little bill for the payment of his supervisors and deputy marshals, and John Sherman's estimate for his secret service bureau, are two specimen items. Not one dollar of public money should be voted for either of these, and if the House stands firm the Senate will be forced to concur or take the responsibility of an extra session.

This detective bureau is a festering sore upon the face of our civil service. It costs the Government $100,000 per annum, and is simply used by John Sherman and other disreputable politicians to assist them in working up mean, contemptible schemes, and by sneering men whom they dislike or fear. It has never accomplished any real good, because if any violator of the laws is ever discovered by the bureau, a small "divvy" insures him an escape. There are members of the force employed who are baser by nature and practice than the meanest thief they shadow or apprehend. The investigation by a Senate committee into the charge recently made by one of these tools against Senator Conover, has caused Secretary Sherman to "reorganize" the bureau, but the reorganization is only a change in form, without effect. The fellow who has charged a United States Senator of stealing a clause from a bill which he had failed to defeat, is still retained, although investigation fails to develop the faintest shadow of proof. Possibly somebody paid to have the charge brought. The bureau "must go." The only service it has rendered under the past and present administrations has been to make "points" against parties personally obnoxious to the President or Secretary of the Treasury, and to assist in covering up actual fraud.

The efforts of the Republican Senate to secure large appropriations for its partisan officials to disburse, is not the only evidence that the hard times troublesome to most people have not reached the north end of the capitol. The annual report of the Secretary of the Senate recently rendered, is an interesting exhibit. Among the bills which Uncle Sam has paid for are pocketbooks, worth from $1 to $3.75 apiece; pocket knives, cost $20.48 per dozen; all sorts of fancy and expensive note paper and envelopes, visiting and mourning cards; cork-screws, worth $4.50 per dozen; auto-graph albums at prices ranging from 84 cents to $4.50 a piece; card-patenters, at $15 per dozen; fifty pounds of gum camphor, at 40 cents per pound; dozens of gallons of bay rum at from $1 to $5.40 per gallon; Cologne at $8 per gallon; hundred thousand tons of ice at 47 cents per hundred weight; dozens of gallons of alcohol; ginger, essential oils; shaving cream at $5 per dozen Pinaud's soap; and other articles sufficient to equip a well appointed fancy store. Eight lunches furnished the committee on appropriations, cost $120. Eight boxes of lemons and 120 pounds of sugar, which was used presumably for lemonade, cost $92.40. Senator Morton's clerk of the committee on privileges and elections, got, besides his regular pay, $450 for "Extra" services, and "Outrage" liar Redpath got nearly $2,000 for services with the sub-committee that went to South Carolina. The latter is now getting in his work again with the Teller committee in New Orleans.

It really begins to look as though George's monument will never be completed. When Congress several months ago appropriated a big sum of money for the purpose people assumed reasonably, that something would really be done. The old chimney called a shaft has stood twenty years in the present unfinished condition and the derelict timbers on top of it have crumbled and swayed in the wind until rotten, while the rain stains on the white marble have turned from red to brown. Last year there was a feeble attempt to spend the appropriation but strange to say, instead of beginning on top of the monument, our modern engineers undertake to finish the shaft, by undermining its base, and after a seven thousand ditch has been dug, they stop to consider what to do next. Plan after plan has been considered, adopted and then abandoned, and now they are posturing Congress again, Col. Casey, Supt. of Public Buildings and Grounds has submitted his ideas, and Mr. Story the sculptor has done likewise. When the stone from Rome, as the contribution of the Pope, was seized and destroyed by the Know Nothings, some ignorant old fool prophesied that the monument would never be finished. It certainly looks as if the managers were in conspiracy with the prophet, and by undermining its foundation propose to give the old tribute to the Father of his Country such a lift as to render its completion an impossibility, if indeed they don't topple it over into the neighboring pond, and so end it for all generations to come.

A New England Senator is reported to have been thrown out of his sleigh, during the recess, and dragged some distance while holding on to the reins, whereupon a local poet sings:

There was an old man who went out in a sled,
When the horses kicked up and immediately fled,
For they thought by the beard it was old Santa Claus,
But when he fell out it was only old Daves.

Editor Herald:

Extremely cold, snowy weather has been the order of the day for nearly a month. The weather is so much like that of the Northern States, that we are beginning to wonder if there is any possibility for Kentucky to go Republican at the next election.

Sporting is nearly all the "go" here now, and, beside those killed by sportsmen, there are a great many birds freezing or starving to death.

Cal. Calloway and Jno. E. White cut a tree the other day and caught ten coon skins out of it. Don't know how many got away.

Shelly Ashby went after a "gang of turkeys, but didn't get 'em.

Powder will get away with a fellow if he tries to load a shot-gun that has fire in the bottom of it. Tom Morton tried it, with about a quarter of a pound in his flask, and the next thing he knew he was running backward with a bursted powder-flask dangling at his side, and his hat and gun lying at some distance from him. Tom's face, hair and eye-brows were scorched and his whole body seared.

We have cherished the idea that turkey, with dressing and gravy, is good. If you had been with us at Mrs. Sam Morton's, last Sunday, your ideas would run in the same channel. Mrs. Morton knows how to cook them—especially fat ones, like the one she had that day.

Mr. W. C. Rowe, who has been teaching at Spring Lick, Grayson co., since last August, enlivened us with his presence during the Christmas holidays.

During the past week, Mr. S. B. Bishop, placed a substitute in the school-room and went to McLean county a courting.

Tom Today's mare fed in a well the other day, and is there yet with a set of gears on, dead.

Jno. C. Warden tried a wild goose chase a few weeks ago, and succeeded in overhauling one that had a crippled wing. It is now at Jake Warden's, where, in company of other geese, it has become quite tame. John feels quite proud of his achievement, and thinks he has proven that success may sometimes attend undertakings that are derisively called "wild goose chases."

By the way, we are glad to know that "Goose Quill," of Carlisle, is on hand again. We take it as a sign that spring will open up soon. Wonder if that office has ever found him yet.

It is supposed that Jim Casebier's sleigh has "gone where the woodbine twined." When last seen he was on horseback.

The Teachers' Association at Walton's creek was snow bound and did not come. We hope it will come around when the weather moderates with the same programme as published for the 4th inst.

Is tooth-ache a serious matter? If so, then Phipps Rowe is a little serious.

Rosine Runslags.

ROSINE, KY., Jan. 11th, 1879.

Gone at last, thank goodness; or at least so time worn that we scarcely ever hear it uttered, that ignominious phrase and by-word, "Don't have to." It seemed as though it were contagious. Bid a man good morning, he would stare you in the face, roll his tobacco to the other side of his mouth, wink knowingly to the by-standers, and out it comes, "Don't have to." The following was heard repeated at a party not long since:

"Kind Miss, shall I the honor have, When the present set is through, To be going to the next."

Said she, "I don't have to."

Jack Frost took pernicious possession of the Rosine mills water pipe department, but a heavy continuous fire by the operators soon caused him to evacuate, leaving them minus a pump.

This deficiency however will not long retard grinding, as a new one is on hand. Mr. N. A. Likens, school teacher at Horse Branch, will give an exhibition soon. His scholars have chosen a play and cast characters.

The snow is so deep in that valley that the ducks have been compelled to make a tunnel to the creek. HAML.

VEGETINE.

AN EXCELLENT MEDICINE

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 28, 1877.

This is to certify that I have used Vegetine manufactured by Dr. H. R. Stevens, Boston, for Rheumatism and General Prostration of the Nervous System, with good success. I recommend Vegetine as an excellent remedy for such complaint.

Yours very truly,

Mr. Vandergrift, of the firm of Vandergrift & Hoffman, is a well known business man in this place, having one of the largest stores in Springfield, O.

OUR MINISTER'S WIFE.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Feb. 16, 1877.

Dear Sir:—Three years ago I was suffering with Rheumatism, and Dr. H. R. Stevens advised me to take Vegetine. After taking one bottle, I was entirely relieved. I continued to take it until I was cured. I again commenced taking it, and am being benefited greatly. It also greatly improves my digestion.

Respectfully,

Mr. A. BALLARD.

SAFE AND SURE.

Mr. H. R. STEVENS—

In 1872 your Vegetine was recommended to me, and I tried it. It was a most beneficial remedy. I was suffering from general debility and nervous prostration, and it cured me. I am now a healthy man, and I can testify to the value of your medicine. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and they have all been benefited. I am now a healthy man, and I can testify to the value of your medicine. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and they have all been benefited.

Yours truly,

VEGETINE

The following letter from Rev. G. W. Mansfield, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Hyde Park, and at present settled in Lowell, most convincingly every one who reads his letter of the wonderful curative qualities of Vegetine as a thorough cleanser and purifier of the blood.

HYDE PARK, MASS., Feb. 15, 1876.

Mr. H. R. STEVENS—

Dear Sir:—About ten years ago my health failed from the debilitating effects of sleeplessness; nearly a year later I was attacked by typhoid fever in its worst form. It settled in my back and took the form of a large deep-seated abscess, which was fifteen months in gathering. I had two surgical operations by the best of the state, and received no permanent cure. I suffered great pain at times, and was constantly weakened by a profuse discharge. I also lost small pieces of bone at different times.

Matters ran on thus about seven years, till May, 1874, when a friend recommended me to go to your office, and talk with you re the virtues of Vegetine. I did so, and by your kindness passed through your manufactory, noting the ingredients used, by which your remedy is produced.

By what I saw and heard I gained some confidence in Vegetine.

I commenced taking it soon after, but felt worse from its effect; still I persevered, and soon felt it was benefiting me in other respects. Yet I did not see the results I desired till I had taken it for a little more than a year, when the difficulty in the back was cured, and I was able to perform my duties.

During the past few weeks I had a severe cold, and was laid up as my first gather on another part of my body.

I took Vegetine faithfully, and it removed the cold with surprising rapidity. I think I should have been cured of my main trouble sooner if I had taken larger doses, after having become accustomed to its effects. I am now a healthy man, and I can testify to the value of your medicine. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and they have all been benefited.

Let your patients be troubled with sore throats or kidney disease understand that it takes time to cure chronic diseases; and, if they will patiently take Vegetine, it will, in my judgment, cure them.

With great obligations I am,

Yours very truly,

G. W. MANSFIELD.

Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Lowell, Mass.

—Correspondents will please remember and not write upon but one side of the paper. Now don't forget this.

—W. H. Williams & Son, pay more money for con hides, beef hides and country produce than any other house in town.

—L. J. Lyon has arranged to feed everybody that comes to Quarterly court next week, a first-class meal, for 15 cents.

—Dark and light colored Overcoats, all sizes, at J. Winter & Co., corner 3d and Market, Louisville, Ky., sell extremely low.

—Mr. Armistead Jones, County Assessor, and Mr. John W. Moseley, deputy, entered upon the duties of the office last Monday.

—At an annual election of officers of Keystone Chapter No. 110, Royal Arch Masons, Prof. M. McIntyre was elected High Priest.

—Property not worth insuring is not worth owning. Insure with the Royal Insurance Co. BARNETT & BROS., Agents, Hartford, Ky.

—Miss Sarah J. Acton, daughter of F. W. Acton, of Mt. Vernon church vicinity, is the guest of her uncle, Rev. G. J. Bean, of this place.

—Read the extract on our fourth page from the monthly circular of Sherly & Glover, proprietors of the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.

—A business not worth insuring is not worth following. Take a policy in the Royal Insurance Co. BARNETT & BROS., Agents, Hartford, Ky.

—An infant child of D. S. C. Tichenor, Beaver Dam, aged about twenty months, died on the 13th instant. Rev. G. J. Bean held funeral services yesterday.

—Let other merchants blow their heads off, trying to attract customers; but, if you want cheap goods, just juggle your cash at G. M. Rowe & Co., Centertown.

—A good supply of beef, pork, lard eggs, butter, flour, meal, chickens, turkeys, and all kinds of wild game kept constantly on hand, at W. H. Williams & Son.

—The thorough-bred short-horn Bull "Tom Spot" will until further notice stand at Hartford at $2 50. For further particulars call on the owner, Jas. A. Thomas, 5-11.

—WANTED.—The money that is due us. As friends, we would be glad to give time; as a matter of business, we need cash, and must have it. G. M. Rowe & Co., Centertown.

—The Court of Claims, which was in session last week, adjourned at noon Friday. Considerable amount of business was transacted, a list of which will be published in the Herald, soon.

—It is said that in many places in the county during the late cold spell birds of various kinds were found dead, caused by the severity of the weather and for want of something to eat.

WANTED.—To purchase a lot of good wheat to be delivered at the Stearns Mills, in Hartford, for which we will pay the highest cash price. MOORE & WISE.

—Mr. Jos. Yonts, one of the prominent business men of Greenville, spent a few days in town last week, the guest of the Hartford House. We had the pleasure of a call from Mr. Yonts while here.

—We are agents for the largest stationery house in the West, and will sell you paper, envelopes, paperies, etc., for less than any other house in town. Come and examine. W. H. Williams & Son.

—"Happy New Year," and many thanks to the patrons of the Merchants Taylor, the Ready Made Mens, Boys and Children's Clothing department of J. Winter & Co., corner Third and Market street Louisville, Ky. Au Revoir.

—Mrs. Sallie W. Mitchell, of this place, is quite low, and at this writing, Tuesday evening, is not expected to live long. She is at the residence of A. P. Hudson, and is the recipient of every care and attention that can be given her.

—All persons having accounts with Rogers & King, will please come forward after the 1st of January, 1879, and settle. We need money and are forced to collect. Respectfully, ROGERS & KING.

—The Falls City Tobacco Warehouse, Louisville, Ky., is a new candidate for public favor and patronage, and one that deserves well at the hands of tobacco men. Mr. Sam'l Bay, of Louisville, R. P. Hart, of Barren county, and A. J. Ayer, of McLean county, are the proprietors.

—Mr. Thomas Bell, of Buford, Ky., died very suddenly last Friday of apoplexy. Mr. Bell was a good citizen, an honorable gentleman, and his demise will cast quite a gloom over that community. His remains were interred in the church-yard at Mt. Carmel, on Saturday, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

—If you want first-class custom-made Boots or Shoes, cheap, call on L. F. Werner, Hartford, Ky.

Remember the Mad of Last Winter. Buy your coal from one who will stand by you when the cold and mud of winter comes. Coal delivered at all times at city prices. J. F. Yager.

—We have been informed that Miss Lizze Bronaugh, of South Carrollton, has been elected Teacher at the Masonic Widows and Orphans Home, Louisville, Ky. We trust it is true, as she will adorn the position.

—Mrs. D. L. Barnett, of Backhorn, after a long and painful illness, died Thursday morning. Mr. Barnett who was engaged in Union County, was sent for on Tuesday night and reached home just before her death.

—Mr. L. R. Becker, as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, is ready, willing and waiting for orders to repair furniture, hang paper, or any kind of upholstery. He knows how to do it too. Try him and see.

—I have the well-known Shroeder-Cummings Station, Stump the Dealer, which, if not previously disposed of, will be offered for sale at public auction on the first Monday in February, 1879, county court and Igleharts stock sale day. J. F. YAGER.

—The roof of the amphitheatre at the fair grounds gave way under the heavy weight of snow on last Friday night, causing a terrible crash. The loss to the Fair company will be several hundred dollars. It will in due time, no doubt, be repaired.

—B. S. Morrison, wife and children, accompanied by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Turner, left on the 8th inst. for Waxahatchee, Tex., where they expect to reside in future. We regret to lose such active, industrious young men from our midst as Mr. Morrison.

—We have a mare mule, 14 hands high, five years old, works splendidly, and a horse, six years old, 15 hands high, works well and is an excellent saddle horse, for sale. If not sold previously, will be sold at auction February 3rd, 1879. W. H. WILLIAMS & SON.

—Messrs. Williams Brothers & Co., pork packers here, bought of Mr. A. R. Pirtle, a few days ago a Poland China hog which tipped the beam at 735 pounds net. This is the largest hog so far as we have knowledge, ever brought to this market. Mr. Pirtle is a good farmer and stock raiser.

Be attentive, affable, kind, polite affectionate in your manners towards your scholars, and they will become so toward you, and toward one another. Try it; prove it.

—Our old friend and former townsman, Captain F. W. Griffin, left Saturday for his home in Elizabethtown where he will remain a few days after which he will leave for Culpepper County, Virginia, (his native home,) where he will remain for a time visiting relations. This will be Mr. Griffin's fifth visit to relations in that State.

—Hartford will certainly keep cool next summer; there has been more ice gathered this winter than perhaps has been for years past. Mr. J. W. Ford, druggist, has built a very large and well-constructed ice-house recently, and has filled it with choice ice. Mr. Henry Armistead, was the architect and knows exactly how to get them up.

—The wife of Rev. Moses T. Ried, of Butler county, died on the 21st inst., of pneumonia, after a short illness. She was the last surviving daughter of Robert Rieder, of this county, and leaves surviving her, two brothers, to wit, Joshua L. and John Rieder, who are the only remaining members of a family of ten children.

—The Farmer's Home Journal is a five weekly agricultural paper published at Louisville, Ky. Every progressive farmer should take it for the next year. The subscription price of the Farmer's Home Journal is $2 00 per year, but by an arrangement between the publishers, it will be sent with the HARTFORD HERALD one year for $2 50. 4 47

—It makes no difference if times are hard and money scarce, if you trade with E. Smal, at the Trade Palace, Hartford, for he sells all his goods at prices to suit the scarcity of money. He is now receiving new goods suitable for this cold wintry weather, buying them for cash at the lowest price, and selling at a smaller profit than ever before, being determined to sell rather than keep them over, even if he has to take first cost for them.

—Having purchased of Mr. W. C. Morton his entire stock of groceries and furniture, and having secured his old location, I am prepared to furnish my friends and the public generally, with anything in the grocery or furniture line. I propose to buy and sell for cash, exclusively, and will thereby be able to give as good bargains as can be had anywhere. Country produce of all kinds, taken in exchange for goods. R. P. ROWE.

Where to Get Them. If you want first-class custom-made Boots or Shoes, cheap, call on L. F. Werner, Hartford, Ky.

Remember the Mad of Last Winter. Buy your coal from one who will stand by you when the cold and mud of winter comes. Coal delivered at all times at city prices. J. F. Yager.

—We have a floating factory on Green River, Ky., suitable for the manufacture of staves, heading and bickory handles, or for general saw mill purposes. Also a steam and three barges. We offer the whole thing for sale. To an energetic party we could turn over contracts having a figured profit of $6000 the first year. We will sell at low figures and take our pay in the product of factory. For particulars address CHESA WYMOND, 210 Main St., Louisville, Ky. 5-1-31

Bring Them Here. I want to buy all the furs, dry hides, green hides, deer skins, and everything in that line, for which I will pay fair prices. C. F. SCHAEFFER, Hartford, Ky.

Change of Programme. The days of resumption are now upon us, and I fear it will be unprofitable to me as well as my customers to continue longer the credit system. I will, therefore, on and after January the first, offer my entire stock of merchandise at bottom prices, strictly for cash, in exchange for country produce, thereby save money for my patrons and trouble and expense to myself. All parties indebted to me will please come forward at once and settle their accounts and notes; by so doing will save cost and trouble
